Introduction Check List

Indicate which type of "grabber/hook" you incorporated in your paper.

Your introduction should have a hook to catch the reader's attention. You might consider...

- Opening with a strong statement (By 2050, deaths due to cancer will be eliminated.)
- Opening with a statistic (Americans and Canadians comprise only 5% of the world population.)
- Opening with an Anecdote (Keep it short.)
- Opening with a question. (Have you ever wondered how long it will be before the miracle of birth is replaced by designer children?)
- Opening with an unusual detail (Scientists believe that body hair will be eliminated through genetic mutation within the next century.)
- Opening with a quotation (Martin Luther once said, "Beneath the rule of men entirely great, the pen is mightier than the sword.")
- Opening with an outrageous statement (In view of strained political and economic relations with Middle Eastern leaders, gasoline powered vehicle transportation has been outlawed in the United States.)
